

THE NEW COURT HOUSE.

What is Being Done in the Premises.

The bill going Los Angeles County four departments of the Superior Court, instead of two, is, it is hoped, to become a law, and the measure takes effect immediately on the signing of the bill. The former is not likely, under the circumstances, to take too long a time in making the necessary appointments to fill the places thus created.

Now arises the question, what is to be done with the judges who are appointed? Where will they sit in presiding in matters civil and criminal? The old court house has no room left in it for even another set to take up its abode beneath the floor. It is suggested that the old Masonic hall, in the Baldwin building on Spring street, might be available for one of the new departments, but this far from even a suggestion has been made, as where the fourth judge is to sit. Doubtless some place will be discovered for the purpose.

This statement calls up the very important question, When will the new court house be ready for use? The action of the Board of Supervisors, so far as it has progressed, is shown by the following circular, which was sent to all the prominent architects of the State some two weeks ago:

"Gentle: Competing plans for the court house, Los Angeles, California.

On motion of Supervisor Venable, the following programme was adopted, for consideration of competing architects.

The Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county, California, propose to erect a court house for said county at an expense of not to exceed $500,000, including preliminary, architect's salary and commission. Said Board of Supervisors will engage at least one architect as their professional adviser.

All designs shall be made in conformity with the following:

The lot is bounded, as shown by the accompanying map, having 288 feet frontage on Fort street, 231 feet on Temple street, 288 feet on New High street, and 234 feet across rear—the lot occupying 50 feet in width of rear of lot.

The building will have three fronts, viz on Fort, Temple and New High streets, with the entrance on the latter. All these streets are of equal importance and of the widest given on map, including sidewalks. The plot on which building stands is level, on top of a knoll (see cut below). The prevailing winds are from the northwest and southwest, and the temperature rarely falls to 32°. The soil is a solid bed of clay, and is difficult in getting a good foundation and drainage. Water abundant, and labor, materials, and the facilities for everything good work do not differ materially from those of large cities of this coast, or east.

The external walls of the building are to be of brick and cut stone (either sand stone or limestone), or terra cotta. The entire structure, including the roof, to be made as safe against fire as possible.

The building to be two stories and basement in height, and have an entrance in each front, and from the rear towards the county jail.

The first floor to be eight feet above lot level, with basement not less than thirteen feet deep.

Basement must contain the following offices: Common, County Surveyor, Public Administrator, junior room, engine room, store room, etc., etc.

First floor may contain office for Board of Supervisors, County Clerk, County Recorder, Auditor (adjunct), Sheriff, Assessor, Tax Collector, (separate), Treasurer (with vault), Superintendent of Schools.

Second floor (may contain) four Court Rooms, Judges' Chambers, Library, etc.; some Court Rooms (small) three jury and two waiting rooms; District Attorney's room.

Following drawings only to be furnished by each competitor, accompanied by a brief memorandum in type-writing, explaining any points not clearly shown by the drawings:

Plans of the basement and upper stories.

Four elevations.

Two sections.

A perspective.

All drawn to a scale of 1/8 inch, and finished in India ink, line only with the drawing put on shadows, and no brush work, except in blacking in the windows and sections of the walls and doors.

The lettering and figuring plain and simple, like ordinary printing type.

No explanatory notes on drawings, but in a separate type-written memorandum, as before noted.

Perspectives in line only, without figures, background or foreground, and without shading of any description.

Building set at angle of 45° with the picture plane, and the station point 150' from the northeast corner, which will be the center of the perspective, and horizon 3' above level of lot.

Scale of perspective to be 8 feet to 1 inch.

Each drawing and the accompanying memorandum to be distinguished by a motto or cipher, and no handwriting of any sort upon either. Any attempt to influence the Supervisors in favor of a competitor will disqualify that competitor.

A sealed envelope bearing the same cipher or motto, and enclosing the same, shall be sent with the drawings, which will be opened before making a final choice of the most approved design, in order that purely business considerations may be duly weighed.

No drawings to be framed, glazed, or even mounted on cardboard, and all to be on Whitman paper, and submitted with a single line for a number and sent free of expense to the Board of Supervisors on or before March 10, 1887.

The Board of Supervisors will at once forward them to their professional adviser, who will throw out from consideration all drawings or sets of drawings not made in conformity with the programme. The remainder he will examine, and will select three he finds to be the best among them, at least three in number, which he will return, with his comments and recommendation to this Board, who will at once award the premiums and all drawings will be returned to the competitors as soon as the award is made. And they will not be shown to the other competitors, nor to the public, without the written consent of their several authors, nor shall anything shown or suggested by the unsuccessful competitors, which is original as to this competition, be adopted and made use of in the building, without the consent of said proper remuneration being made to the author.

The Board will pay for accepted plans $5000.

The supervising architect shall receive the sum of not less than $20 per day, which shall include the preparation and elaboration of all working drawings.

The appointment and discharge of the supervising architect shall be at the discretion of the Board of Supervisors.

These plans being in on the tenth of March, and some of the other adopted, steps will then be taken to sell the house.

viewed for the purpose of building the court house.

It is not possible that a blow will be struck on the new edifice before next autumn. If the work is actively in hand on the first day of September next, no one will have much cause to complain. When once the building is underway, the Supervisors think it will take eight months to complete it so that it will be ready for occupancy. There is not a shadow of doubt that two full years will be consumed in the work of putting up the new court house. If it is done in that time, the county will be fortunate enough.

The plain proposition then is that the old ramshackle building which disfigures the center of the city, and where the archives of the county are in the most imminent danger, will continue to fulfill its mission for thirty long months to come. During the interim some provision must be made for the new departments of the Superior Court, outside the property of the county. It is worthy of note, in this connection, that the bill does not provide for clerks of the two new departments. It is probable that the discretion of the Supervisors is considered sufficient to cover this part of the case.

THE COURTS.

People vs. George Hanford, burglary—Defendant found not guilty.

SET FOR FRIDAY.
Elsworth vs. Merrill Lodge.

The Exposition Building.

Hon. Henry T. Hazard reports that the great exposition building on the corner of Fifth and Olive streets, is well under way. The foundations are laid and the framework will soon rise in fair proportions. The basement contains a great dining room 166 feet long, the floor of which is all flagged in mosaic style. It is expected to be ready for opening by the first of April when the Ladies' Flower Festival will have their annual session. The concrete pillars under the superstructure are of immense strength, and the trusses will be only 16 feet between centers, whereas the San Francisco pavilion has a space of 20 feet from center to center. The spans between the pillars are only eighty feet, as compared to one hundred in the San Francisco building.

The enterprising citizens who propose to supply this great need of a large city are Hon. H. T. Hazard, H. K. S. O'Melveny, Esq., and Mr. John H. Jones.

A Reduced Charge.

The examination of Mr. Charles Raskin took place before Justice Taney yesterday. The editor of the Progress was charged with an assault to murder, in that he had shot at W. E. Deste, a constable, on the night of the 18th, during a heated discussion, with the intent to murder his opponent. The evidence for the people was not sufficient to maintain such charge. The defense waited examination, and the Court held Raskin to answer for assault with a deadly weapon, with bail set at $500, which was given by Messrs. Jules Roth and Edie D'Artois.

Excursions Coming.

A Dr. Ennis excursion of thirteen Pullman cars, from St. Louis, is due here next Monday. On the same day a Raymond & Whitcomb party of eight Pullman cars, coming from Boston via New Orleans, will be due. No season has heretofore brought so many tourists to the Sunny South as this one.

Acquitted.

The trial before Judge Cheney of Geo. Hanford, charged with burglary in a Chinese pawnshop on the night of the fire in Negro Alley, in October last, yesterday resulted in a verdict of acquittal. The defendant was ordered discharged.

Convalescent Children.

Very often the convalescence of children is retarded by a depressing ennui. Little children have not the mental resources nor the philosophy of grown-up invalids, and, if too young or too weak to read, it goes hard with the patient—and the nurse, too—if he must lie still all day, sighing and moaning: "Oh, I wish I could get up." "Oh, dear, I am so tired of this old bed." "Oh, when can I go down stairs," and all the fretful lamentations familiar to mothers and nurses.

As it takes one's ingenuity to amuse and pacify these little patients, I will mention two or three things I did for my boy when he was recovering from diphtheria, hoping the experience may be of use to some other mother. Of course I soon exhausted stories and the mild play with such little toys as weak hands can manage, and the old cry of "Oh, mamma, what can I do?" set in again.

The walls of the sick room were of bare plaster—as all sick rooms should be, for a coat of lime makes them all fresh and pure again—and when my weary child sighed, among his many sighs, for "something new in the room to look at," I brought him a long, light stick—a piece of such moulding it happened to be—with which he could point at the different pictures while he asked as many questions as he liked. This stick was an inspiration. It was like having arms six feet long, and the boy had great fun, "visiting all around the world" with it, as he expressed it. As long as he held in his hand the first demand in the morning was, "Give me my poke stick, mamma." As I had to be out of the room a good deal, I fixed a call-bell on the foot of the bed, and we arranged a code of signals that proved quite entertaining. Three taps on the bell with the "poke stick" meant a drink of water; four taps, a clean handkerchief; six taps meant "I am hungry"; eight taps, "What time is it?"; and twelve taps signified that the pillows needed shaking up and the bed straightened generally.

After a while I attached to the stick a bit of string with a bent pin attached, scattered some old toys about the floor, and the invalid had a grand season of "fishing." It was amusing to see how shy some of the fish were, and what a time it was before they would consent to bite. And then the excitement of landing them in the bed—which was now a boat, of course—was immense.

I am sure these little beguilements helped on my boy's recovery, for they kept his spirits in a cheerful condition, and cheerfulness is a very helpful medicine. [American Agriculturist.

been washed, shaken dry in a towel, and cut with a sharp knife. Pile the outer leaves of the lettuce, if they are not bruised and discolored, one on top of the other, and then with a keen knife make several cuts each way and lay this around also. This will not bruise and wilt the lettuce as chopping would. Now, for the very poetry of dressing! Beat lightly the yolks of two eggs, add seven table-spoonfuls of vinegar, a few drops at a time, one table-spoonful of sugar, two-thirds of a tea-spoonful of mustard, half a tea-spoonful of salt and a quarter tea-spoonful of pepper. Mix these three latter first with a little of the vinegar so that they will not lump. Add butter the size of an egg, and put in a small saucepan set by crossing the branch. There were 10,000 men on each side, and the scene was very imposing. As soon as the Georgians crossed the branch they met a terrific fusillade from the Tennesseans, who were at home in the snow. The commander of the Tennesseans was captured, but a bold dash was made by the Tennesseans, and he was rescued. The Georgians and South Carolinians, being unused to the snow, were at a great disadvantage, and were forced back across the branch. As the Tennesseans crossed the branch they met their snowballs, and the next valley fired at the Georgia and Carolina boys was terrible in its effect. Passing on, the Tennesseans captured the quarters and proceeded to loot the whole shebang, carrying off rations, tobacco, pipes and everything else that did not belong to the government.

A Snowball Battle by 20,000 Men [St. Louis Globe-Democrat.] In January, 1864, while Confederate troops were in winter quarters at Dalton, Ga., there came a big snowstorm, and 20,000 soldiers engaged in a regularly organized snowballing. The Georgia and South Carolina troops took one side of a small stream and the Tennesseans the other. The Tennesseans formed a line of battle, their drums beating, bugles blowing, colors flying and officers mounted. Every soldier had a knapsack full of snowballs. The Georgians formed and prepared to make the attack by crossing the branch. There were 10,000 men on each side, and the scene was very imposing. As soon as the Georgians crossed the branch they met a terrific fusillade from the Tennesseans, who were at home in the snow. The commander of the Tennesseans was captured, but a bold dash was made by the Tennesseans, and he was rescued. The Georgians and South Carolinians, being unused to the snow, were at a great disadvantage, and were forced back across the branch. Passing on, the Tennesseans captured the quarters and proceeded to loot the whole shebang, carrying off rations, tobacco, pipes and everything else that did not belong to the government.

It now remains for the Senate to complete the work of the House by a prompt and hearty endorsement of the bill. Once enacted into a law and supplemented by the proposed amendment, it will be the death-blow to polygamy, and the Mormon Church, as a religious institution, will have to stand upon the same basis as the other churches, instead of being suffered to employ its power in the interests of the political ambitions and lustful practices of its members, and to the detriment of the Gentile population of the Territory. Then only Utah will be in a fit condition for Statehood. [Chicago Tribune, Rep.

EARLY IN FEBRUARY WILL BE COMmenced the publication of

The Weekly Directory.

A general information, business and commercial guide for Southern California.

THE WEEKLY DIRECTORY, added from the special advertising feature that will characterize it, is intended to be the representative journal of its class for Southern California. It will aim to merit confidence and patronage by its timely record of and intelligent comment on all important matters of commercial, mercantile and industrial nature—in brief, a reliable index to the business condition, resources and possibilities of Southern California.

Messrs. E. J. Baldwin and Richard Garvey have put the Felipe Lugo Rancho on the market in subdivisions of 10 and 20 acres each. This is one of the celebrated ranchos of Los Angeles county. It lies along the west bank of the San Gabriel River, and the Southern Pacific Railway runs along its northern edge. The land is well known to all as

THE RICHEST IN THE WORLD!

It is what is known as Damp Land, and will produce a crop in our years of least rainfall. The soil is most admirably suited for the growing of Corn, Potatoes, Cabbages and other vegetables. It is also very well adapted to deciduous fruit and vine culture of all sorts.

Pears, Apples, Peaches,

All the berries and small fruits flourish here with unusual luxuriance. Nuts and Figs grow in such soil to perfection. English Walnuts are among the most profitable crops in this country. Good WATER is obtainable at not a too great depth from the surface.

At the price asked, and the soil considered, this is the best investment offered in this county to-day.

Encouraging to the Beet Sugar Industry.

Attention is now being directed to the possibilities of sugar production on this coast more than ever before. The exceedingly low cost of dry granulated sugar, even now established at Alvarado, in this State, appears to have stimulated a desire on the part of those largely interested in the sugar business to look more carefully into the subject. Mr. Dyer, superintendent of the sugar mentioned, has repeatedly furnished us with statistics of cost, which have been published in these columns. Notwithstanding the figures presented, there has been a disposition to discredit the accuracy of the statement that granulated sugar from sugar beets, was now being manufactured and laid down in this market in barrels, at an average net cost for a season's work of less than 55 per pound. The cost during some months of the campaign this season has been but $4.88 per hundred pounds. With such a showing as this under the present disadvantages, it is too much to suppose that beet sugar manufacturers would, with modern refineries, be able to materially reduce the cost of production. Careful estimates in respect to cost, with a factory that is capable of working 300 tons of beets daily, place the minimum at $3.37 per hundred pounds, laid down in San Francisco. Recent investigation by persons in every way competent to make approximately accurate estimates, have confirmed the statement of Mr. Dyer touching this matter. With facts of this kind before them, it is not easy to understand why men in this State, directly interested in the sugar business, and avowedly pledged to the development of home industries, should permit so promising an industry as that of beet sugar to remain undeveloped.

If Representative Hancock should secure the passage of the bill recently introduced in Congress, there is an abundance of capital here ready to embark in this business. Whether that measure passes or not, it seems quite clear that if once properly established, competition from any source could not make it unprofitable. It is not at all likely that Congress is disposed to adopt any measure, which would almost literally wipe out the cane sugar interest of Louisiana. Assuming this to be true, there is not sufficient already in the beet sugar industry to justify investment. It is evident that beet sugar can be produced in this country at less cost than cane sugar, and the possibilities of production are very great, particularly on this coast. With the facts already presented, and the sentiments in favor of protection to home production, the risk of waste or radical legislation with respect to this important interest, seems quite remote. Home capitalists have been very reluctant to look into the matter, thus far, but if they should let the opportunity lie to long, they may discover that foreign capital has not been so timid. The field is now open to development by local enterprises; but it hardly seems possible that a promising industry like this can remain long unappreciated. [S. F. Grocer and Country Merchant.]

Duty on Raisins.

The Wm. T. Coleman & Co's agency in this city has a telegram to the effect that the dispatches sent recently from Washington touching the duty on raisins are somewhat in error. Secretary Bayard makes no recommendation to Congress in this matter at all. The Randall scheme to revise the tariff proposes no change in the duty on raisins, but puts Zante currants on the free list. Some effort should be made to prevent this part of the scheme going through. If the estimates are correct and California is to produce 1,000,000 boxes of raisins this year, and twice that sum next year, it will be hard to find a market for this product. At present all the Sultan grapes grown here are made into Sultan raisins, but should the market be glutted with this variety of grapes, could easily be converted into currants, and made compete with the importations from Zante. As that island and cognate interests cut no figure in the foreign relations of the United States, there could hardly be any objection made to keeping up the duty on currants.

The agency of Wm. T. Coleman & Co. sent from this city urgent dispatches to the California delegation at Washington in the interest of maintaining the duty on California raisins.

Purified Water for Newberg, N. Y.
The unsatisfactory condition of the water furnished to the city during the past summer has made it necessary for the board to devise some means by which the water may be purified and made fit for public use.
After much careful thought and study the committee reports that this can only be brought about by a thorough system of filtration and aeration. The very large expenditure required for the maintenance of the ordinary filter beds and the certainty that if constructed they would prove ineffective for the work which would be required of them has led this committee to give their more serious consideration to the Hyatt system of filtration and aeration now in successful operation in various cities of the Union. The main features of this system are as follows: The coagulants which may consist of sulphate of alumina and solution of lime, will be fed into the water not to exceed two grains of each to the gallon. The water then passes to the first aerating apparatus, then through inlet pipes to the filters, entering above the filtering material consisting of one part of coke to two parts sand; it percolates down through the same and is conducted to the second aerating apparatus, where it receives a second aerating and then flows into the reservoir and thence into the pipes leading into the city. By a simple and effective plan the filter beds are cleansed every twenty-four hours. [Sanitary Era.]

At last Congress seems to take some decisive action against polygamy in Utah. The Tucker substitute for the Edmunds bill, which has passed the House, seems strong enough to break up the whole organization. It dissolves the Church of the Latter Day Saints and the Perpetual Emigration Fund Company. It strips polygamists of the power of both the ballot and the military, as well as the appointment of all the judges and selection of the county and probate courts, justices, sheriffs, constables and other county and district officers. It makes the lawful husband or wife a competent witness in a prosecution for unlawful cohabitation. The aim of the bill is to make the people of Utah feel that the law is stronger than the Mormon Church. If it succeeds in doing this it will wipe out Mormonism. [Philadelphia North American, Rep.]

Just as some of our statesmen are talking of reducing the tax on sugar, France increases the tax on that article 20 per cent and reduces the bounty. That's a sort of sugar-tit for tat. [Boston Herald, Ind.]

How Public Work is Done.

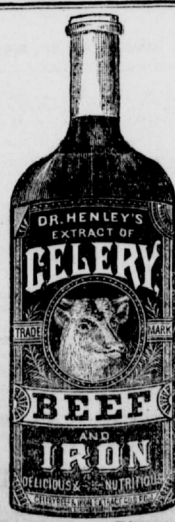

We noted some time since the disgracefully insanitary condition of the Treasury and Pension buildings in Washington, with the cost of almost the life of Secretary Manning, and probably of many lumber individuals, who have an equally good right to live. Mr. Manning has taken his department in hand, and in revising the sanitary arrangements the inspector of plumbing, Mr. S. A. Robinson, developed the circumstance that the government had not so much as a diagram or description of any part of drainage and piping of the Treasury building. In addition to exposing defects in construction and the rottenness of the brick drains throughout the building, an analysis of the air was made. The microscopic examination showed the existence of germs and bacteria, and the enormous percentage of organic matter showed by other tests indicated the emanation of sewer gas in the rooms. The sewer along the east corridor was found to be of one brick thickness, and put together with mortar instead of cement, and the bottom so broken as to admit of leakage, polluting the soil along the whole line of the building. [Sanitary Era.]

Tuesday evening the residence of Dr. Guthrie, on Second street, between H and I streets, was entered by burglars and about $150 worth of silverware taken, with some clothing. Last evening the robbers were captured and safely lodged in jail. [San Bernardino Courier.]

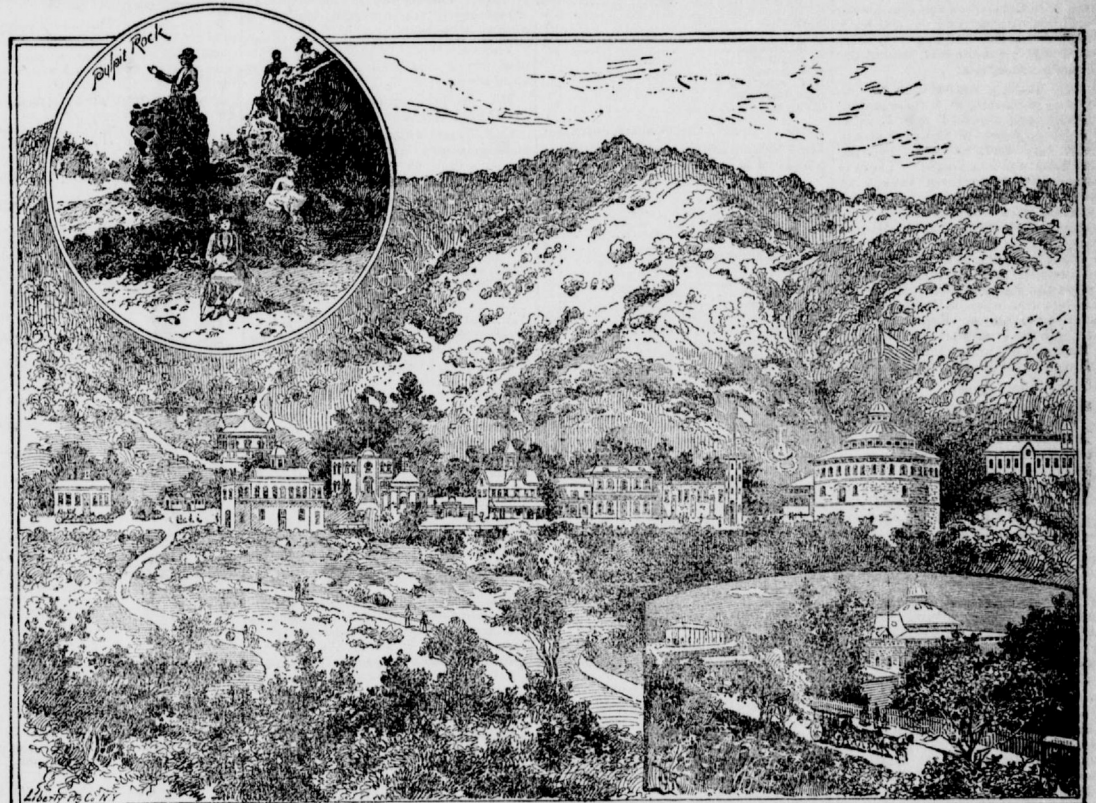

Cure for Piles.

PILES are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blood, bleeding and itching piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 30 cents. Address the Bosanko Medicine Co., Riquia, O. Sold by E. F. Heinemann.
